LIQUID DIETARY SUPPLEMENT

This product contains very unique, natural compounds called Lycium Barbarum Polysaccharides found only in pure Goji. These polysaccharides are known clinically as LBP1, LBP2, LBP3 & LBP4 (Lycium Barbarum Polysaccharides 1,2,3,4). These LBP's are the focus of most of the compelling clinical research conducted on Goji to date.

LBP's are glycoconjugates. This means they are exceptional sources of the essential cell nutrients that are necessary for proper immune function and intercellular communication. LBP's may have the ability to control many of the body's most important biochemical defense systems and are responsible for much of Goji's powerful beneficial effects.*
